THE GARRISON AT PORT ARTHUR, which consists of 30,000, and the garrison at Newchwang of 15,000.

A general who knows the secrets of the mobilization tells me that the last 1000 men making the required 500,000 men will leave Kusan, July 21, adding: "We will be very sick if the railway is not working well."

It is not likely that Gen. Kourapatkin will fatigue his troops unnecessarily. If the Japanese press him, he will retire from Liao Yang to Mukden, or even Harbin. Retreat certainly is painful, but now it is indispensable.

RUSSIANS TAKE CHANG JIN.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

SEOUL, May 9, Noon.—The Japanese Consul at Gensan (Wonsan) telegraphs that a force of Russians, number unknown, accompanied by Manchurian mounted bandits, crossed the Yalu far above Wiju, advanced southeast and occupied Chang Jin, 100 miles west of Song Jin, May 5.

ALEXIEFF MOVES HEADQUARTERS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 9, 6 p. m.—Viceroy Alexieff has telegraphed to the Emperor announcing the transfer of his headquarters to Harbin. The admiralty reports that Rear-Admiral Yeszen's squadron is at Vladivostok.

KOUROPATKIN REMAINS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 9, 7 p. m.—It is officially announced that Gen. Kourapatkin's headquarters will remain at Liao Yang. He has no intention, at least for the present, of retiring from his position there.

LOSSES OF JAPS IN BATTLE OF YALU.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

TOKIO, May 9, 3 p. m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The official report of the Japanese casualties at the battle of the Yalu, May 7, shows that the guards lost one officer and twenty men killed and had seven officers and 122 men wounded. The Second Division lost one officer and 84 men killed and 13 officers and 305 men wounded.

The Twelfth Division had three officers and 76 wounded.

HURRYING REINFORCEMENTS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 9, 7:44 p. m.—The reinforcements prepared for Gen. Kourapatkin are being hurried. The last stage of the mobilization of the Tenth and Seventeenth Army Corps has been signalled by the calling-out of the reserves in the Moscow and Kharkov provinces. They will go to the front, placing another 100,000 men at Kourapatkin's disposal.

The announcement of the mobilization of four army corps along the Volga, which will follow in July or August, is expected next month. The reserves for each army corps involve about twenty thousand men, an army

YINKOW THE NEXT POINT OF ATTACK.

Capture of Dalny and Retreat of Russians Make it Possible.

Czar's Forces Retire from Newchwang to Liao Yang. Bandits Destroy Railroad—Part of Vladivostok Fleet Shut Out—Muscovites Take Chang Jin—Alexieff Moves His Headquarters.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, May 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Dalny having been taken, Yinkow will probably be one of the next points of attack. In consequence of the capture of Dalny, Port Arthur's electrical supply will be cut off, the searchlights and other lights required by the garrison will be seriously interfered with. Severe Japanese loss is anticipated in the approaching attack on Port Arthur.

RUSSIANS RETIRE TO LIAO YANG.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

LONDON, May 10.—The Tokio correspondent of the Daily Chronicle says that 15,000 Russians are retiring from Newchwang to Liao Yang. The correspondent says that Chinese bandits have destroyed the road to Taskichia and to Haicheng (Taskichia is the junction for the Newchwang branch of the Port Arthur-Mukden route and Haicheng is further north on the main line). The Russians are making a new road. The correspondent adds that bandits have attacked and cut other parts of the railroad.

VLAIEVOSTOK FLEET SHUT OUT.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

LONDON, May 10.—The Daily Telegraph's Seoul correspondent says: "It is believed here that a portion of the Russian Vladivostok fleet has been successfully shut out and is now in the Sea of Japan trying to evade the Japanese."

ORDERS GENERAL RETREAT.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

PARIS, May 10.—The correspondent at St. Petersburg of the Echo de Paris says: "Gen. Kourapatkin has ordered a general retreat, and no doubt intends to avoid a battle until he has sufficient forces."

the Japanese transports which were seen recently near Kai Chau. The Russians are commandeering cattle on the west side of the Liao River, and the Chinese are indignant at this procedure. Eight hundred head of cattle have been seen at Yinkow.

A Japanese spy has been discovered at Newchwang. He was approached by Russians, who pulled at his queue, which came off. He was taken prisoner, but subsequently escaped with the help of some Chinese, who distracted the attention of the Russians. The dynamo connected with the mine at Newchwang has not been removed.

INTERVIEW WITH HAYASHI.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

LONDON, May 9.—Baron Hayaashi, the Japanese Minister here, looks for the next engagement of the war to take place at Liao Yang. He said today: "Gen. Kuroki probably is on the march to that place and Gen. Kourapatkin should give battle there. Indeed, from the signs of his concentration, he may assume the offensive. But for his defeat at the Yalu River, this movement might be very dangerous. Under the existing conditions, however, Gen. Kuroki ought to be able to drive back Gen. Kourapatkin."

"At Liao Yang, the Russians have a central position, and can strike either to the left or right, an advantage they did not enjoy when Newchwang had to be defended. In the event of our occupation of Newchwang, we shall immediately appoint a civil administrator, as we did at the time of the war with China, and open the port to all nations."

"Vice-Admiral Togo, I think, is now likely to dock part of his fleet and give the men a rest from the ceaseless vigil they have kept up since the beginning of the war. Our land advance and part of the impending engagements must largely depend upon the commissariat. This I hardly think is yet able to cope with a forward movement upon Mukden, Harbin or Vladivostok."

Port Dalny, occupied by the Japanese, was formerly called Talien Wan, under which name it still appears on many maps. It is twenty miles northwest of Port Arthur, and is a shipping port on a large open bay situated on territory leased to or acquired by Russia. It has been the headquarters of Russia in the Far East.

as its position secures the trade of wealthy territory and the littoral of the Korean Gulf.

Dalny provides a safe anchorage for shipping, and it was supposed to have been protected by Port Arthur. It is served by the Chinese Eastern Railway. It is a free port, and as such it has attracted from Vladivostok the foreign import merchants whose trade has been ruined by the closing of that port to free trade. Ships drawing thirty feet of water can enter Dalny at any time, and without pilot, and when inside they are well protected from heavy weather. Two drydocks, one large enough for the biggest vessel afloat, were being constructed at Dalny by the Russians in January, 1903.

In order to give to Dalny its desired commercial preeminence, Russia has spent much money, including $5,250,000 on dry docks, and she has announced various regulations and privileges to attract trade. People of all nationalities may acquire and hold land on the same terms, and no resident of Dalny can be deported.

All governments may establish consulates there, and land will be assigned in a convenient locality to those governments which do so. Edwin V. Morgan was appointed United States Consul at Port Dalny in January last. He applied for an exequatur to the Russian government, but this was denied him under the present circumstances on purely military grounds, the Russian army desiring that there be no foreign officials on the Liao Tung Peninsula during the progress of hostilities. This view of the matter was accepted by Washington, and it was decided to make no effort to place Morgan at his post pending the issue of the war between Japan and Russia. In the meantime, Morgan was sent to Shanghai to act as assistant Consul there.

At one time last year, 25,000 coolies were employed at Dalny on improvements, and the Russian government was prepared to spend many millions of dollars to make Dalny the commercial center they desired it to become. There has been steamship communication between Dalny, Vladivostok and all the seaports of the north from Petropavlovsk in Kamchatka to Nagasaki and Shanghai. Dalny is free from ice all the year.

FEELING OF APPREHENSION.
OFFICIALS SAY UNWARRANTED.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, May 9, 3:34 p. m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] The swift march of events at the theater of war—the virtual abandonment by the Russians of all their advanced positions along the Manchurian littoral—has created a deep impression among the people and a feeling of apprehension which the authorities contend is unwarranted by a calm consideration of the situation.

SHARPERS GET BUSY.

Land Sharks Dupe Homeseekers.

Organized Band Unloading Upon People in Several of the Western States.

Estate Swindles Based on Reclamation Projects Being Carried on.

Formal Instructions to the Canal Commission Issued by the President.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An organized band of swindlers is actively at work in several Western States, notably Utah, North and South Dakota, and also in operating to a lesser extent in the East. These swindlers have selected as easy victims prospective homeseekers who are interested in the various reclamation projects undertaken by the government. By means of advertisements cleverly worded, in which they claim to have secured inside information regarding the plans of engineers and by display of alleged copies of government maps and surveys, they are successful in duping many unwary homeseekers.

For a consideration of from $50 to $200, these swindlers guarantee to locate settlers upon the best irrigable lands under government works. Notwithstanding that the government some time ago issued a circular warning people against being taken in by just such frauds, swindling goes right along, and the sharks are reaping a rich harvest. It should be clearly understood that these swindlers have no inside information. Their maps are data other than any intended settler can obtain upon request to the department.

The lands under these government projects are withdrawn from all entry excepting homestead before any actual work of construction is ordered, and the Secretary is, by law, required to outline the size and location of each farm. Until plans are completed for construction and contracts have been let for work, it will be impossible to state with any degree of accuracy what the cost of water will be or what lands will be irrigated.

Settlers who make filings based on information received from these swindlers will not only lose the money paid out, but are liable later to find the lands not included in the government's proposed system and thus will have exhausted their homestead entry upon worthless land.

When the proper time comes for throwing open to homestead entry the lands under these great irrigation projects, the Secretary of the Interior will give due notice through the public press. Until such announcement, it will not be safe for settlers to locate upon these lands.

FORMAL INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN TO CANAL COMMISSION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, May 8.—The President's formal instructions to the Canal Commission were issued late this afternoon. They are embodied in a letter to the Secretary of War. After reciting the steps taken under executive authority as a primary to the work of actual construction, and directing that the work vested in the commission be carried on or exercised under the supervision of the direction of the War Department, the letter gives the following instructions:

"Subject to the limitations of law and the conditions herein contained, the Isthmian Canal Commission is authorized and directed:

"First—To make all needful rules and regulations for the government of the work and for the correct administration of military, civil and judicial affairs of its possessions, until the close of the Fifty-eighth session of Congress.

"Second—To establish a civil service for the government of the strip and construction of the canal, appointments to which shall be secured as nearly as practicable by a merit system.

"Third—To make or cause to be made all needful surveys, borings, designs, plans and specifications of the engineering, hydraulic, and sanitary works required, and to supervise the execution of the same.

"Fourth—To make and cause to be executed after due advertisement all necessary contracts for any and all kinds of engineering and construction works.

"Fifth—To acquire by purchase or through proper uniform proceedings to be prescribed by the commission, any private lands or other real property whose ownership by the United States is essential to the excavation and completion of the canal.

"Sixth—To make all needful rules and regulations respecting an economical and correct disbursement and an accounting for all funds that may be appropriated by Congress for the construction of the canal.

"Seventh—To make requisition on the Secretary of War for funds needed

THE GREAT WAR.

The advantages gained by the enemy in the occupation of the Liao Tung Peninsula and the advance from the Yalu River, the General Staff nevertheless declares that it had not been the Russian Zaslavich's rash stand, the retreat and concentration of Gen. Kouroupatkin's army upon its normal line of defense would have been regarded as a masterly piece of strategy. The equanimity of the government is shown by the free publication of all news, telegrams from abroad this morning being of a most sensational character. At the General Staff, the one dominant idea is that the developments of the last few days make it certain that the war will be bitter and long. There it is said that half a million men would have been required to hold Southern Manchuria. The real truth seems to be that Gen. Kouroupatkin has not much over 200,000 men south of Harbin, and he is determined to pursue the plan which he mapped out at first—to allow the enemy to follow him back into the heart of Manchuria until strong enough to assume the offensive.

The Associated Press is informed that while the Russian garrison is still at Newchwang, the untenability of the position is fully realized, and preparations for dismantling the forts and removing the garrison have been completed. The Russian gunboat Strouh here will be destroyed. The same thing applies to Haiheng, 50 miles southeast of Newchwang. The question of holding the Russian position at Liao Yang depends upon circumstances.

The Russians hold the pass which commands the westerly approaches, but it is realized that the position there will be rendered untenable if the enemy succeeds in bringing up a superior force along the northern road to Mukden. An ultimate retreat to Harbin might possibly incur the danger of a Chinese uprising, which increases with the Japanese successes and must be taken into consideration. Should the news of the enemy's victories inflame the Chinese residents in Manchuria against the Russians, the latter's withdrawal north of the zone of their hostility might become imperative. The possibility of active operations against Vladivostok also will have to be reckoned with.

The General Staff inveighs against a too pessimistic view of the situation, pointing out that the Japanese must land another army before they can hope to make a strong advance movement, which will require time. In the meantime, the strength of Gen. Kouroupatkin's army and his position will daily increase. The General Staff repeats the words of the commander-in-chief: "Patience, patience, patience." They also insist that the full extent of the Russian losses on the Yalu River has been published.

"It is no guesswork of our losses," said a member of the General Staff. "Every man has been accounted for. Let the enemy publish theirs."

SENTIMENT IN GERMANY.

INCIDENT IN REICHTAG.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
BERLIN, May 3.—[By Atlantic Cable.] During the discussion on following the third reading of the Budget bill in the Reichstag, Herr Bebel, the Socialist leader, referred to Emperor William's speeches at Carlsruhe and Mayence, remarking that the pointed allusions to France had caused great surprise, coming so soon after the Emperor's return from Italy, where President Loubet had been received with hearty ovations. The Emperor's words, the speaker added, were enhanced in importance through the fact that he telegraphed to Emperor Nicholas from Sicily on the occasion of the sinking of the Russian battleship Petropavlovsk, as follows: "Russia's mourning is Germany's mourning." Herr Bebel, continuing, said: "I deny most emphatically that the Emperor's telegram reflects the sentiment of the German people. In my opinion, German sympathies are far more on the side of Japan than on that of Russia." This statement caused murmurs of dissent from the Right.

"The land in which such things can happen as recently occurred in Russia," continued Herr Bebel, "stands upon such a low level of civilization that all the rest of Europe has the most lively interest in seeing the sun of civilization rise upon it." Herr Bebel asserted that Western Europe has special reasons to rejoice if Russia loses the war, for "the more Russia is weakened by the struggle, the less likely it becomes that Russia will mix in the affairs of Western Europe."

Herr Bebel did not deny Chancellor Von Buelow's explanation that this dislike of Germany was "partly commercial jealousy and envy." The chief cause, however, of the dislike of Germany was her growing military equipment on sea and land.

Chancellor Von Buelow, in his reply, began by deprecating the idea that he intended to enter into a lengthy discussion of international politics with Herr Bebel. He pointed out that the quotation of the Emperor's words was incorrect. The Emperor's telegram, he said, expressed warm sympathy on account of the great calamity by which so many brave men had met death in the discharge of their duty. The Chancellor added: "I am convinced that this expression of human sympathy corresponded with the sentiments of the majority of this high house and also with those of the majority of the people of Germany."

WONDERFUL SECRECY.

JAPS FURNISH NO NEWS.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, May 3.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] As evidence of the wonderful secrecy observed by the Japanese, H. E. Knight, correspondent of the London Daily Mail, says, in a letter

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]

CHEFOO, May 10, noon.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Passengers arriving today from Newchwang say that the Russian force probably evacuated that place during last night. Many had already departed yesterday, and those remaining made no secret of their intention to leave. There is no activity whatever at the forts, where there are still a few guns in position. Three thousand bandits are camped outside of the walls of Newchwang, ready to begin looting at the moment the last of the Russian soldiers have left the city.

AMERICAN ALERTNESS.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
WASHINGTON, May 10.—The Navy Department has called to Admiral Cooper, commander-in-chief of the Asiatic section, to send a cruiser and a gunboat to Chefoo. This is the nearest neutral port to Port Arthur, but is outside the zone of military operations. The selection of the vessels is left to Admiral Cooper.

DENIES EPIDEMIC STORY.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, May 9, 10:30 p.m.—Count Vorontsov Daskhoff, head of the Russian Red Cross, authorizes an absolute denial of the report published by a news agency in the United States that an urgent telegram had been received at St. Petersburg from Mukden asking for the immediate dispatch of 100 extra doctors and announcing that an epidemic of typhoid fever, dysentery and smallpox had broken out among the Russian troops.

RESPIRE FOR DE PLEHVE.
[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
LONDON, May 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Russian correspondents of the Times say that the diversion of public attention to the theater of war in the Far East secured for M. De Plehve a period of comparative respite from opposition, of which he evidently determined to take advantage. Those institutions which have hitherto suffered from his reactionary policy are expected to even greater danger now that the vigilance of their supporters and of the public at large has been in some degree relaxed. The higher educational institutions have begun to realize keenly the change in the situation, and the Ministry of the Interior has again turned attention to the Zemstvo's prerogatives, which he is anxious to restrict to the narrowest limits.

POSSIBILITY OF TROUBLE.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
WASHINGTON, May 9.—The attention of the State Department has been drawn to the possibility of rioting and looting at Newchwang in the indefinite interval of time between the expected Russian withdrawal and the Japanese occupation of the port. Secretary Hay today had a consultation with the President respecting the advisability of again sending a warship to Newchwang to safeguard American interests, and as far as possible to prevent outrages upon the Japanese.

It is believed that an intimation has been conveyed from the British government to our government that the dispatch of a warship to Newchwang might prevent the appearance of undue activity on the part of a single power. The Japanese States embassador Helena and a British gunboat lay in the mud dock at Newchwang all last winter, and were withdrawn only upon a hint from Russia that their presence obstructed military operations.

The Navy Department has several vessels within two or three days' sail of Newchwang, the nearest being the Raleigh, now at Chemulpo, while the Helena and the Wilmington are at Wenchow, just below Shanghai, and the Cincinnati is on her way from Chefoo to Chemulpo.

NO RECALL OF ALEXIEFF.
[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
ST. PETERSBURG, May 9.—It is semi-officially stated that the report written on the eve of the correspondent's departure for the front. "When troops are dispatched by sea, only one officer on the transport knows to what place she is bound. Soldiers writing to their families from the front, or even from the port of embarkation, are forbidden to give even a hint of their whereabouts. Not a wife knows where her soldier husband is. Although trains full of troops daily pass through the railway station at Kobe, between cheering crowds, the local newspapers must not mention the fact that soldiers have been seen near the town."

PEN PICTURE OF FIGHT ON YALU.

JAPANESE MADE CHARGE IN FACE OF HEAVY FIRE.

Their Formation Was Closer than That Kept by British or American Troops—Shelling of the Russians Was Deadly—Unfurling of Flags on Commanding Points.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
WUJU (Korea) May 1.—[Via Seoul, May 8, by Atlantic Cable. Delayed in transmission.] When the early mists drifted from the Yalu River this morning, the Japanese infantry was disclosed in line of battle, on the low, sandy island of Kinteto, which is in front of Wuju. The walls and towers of the city on the hill, rising abruptly from the south bank of the river, and the nearest of three channels were crowded with Japanese and Korean spectators of the forthcoming attack.

Kinteto Island is hardly anything more than a dry bed of the river. It is a low, sandy plain, only a few feet above the level of the water and

There was a perfect shower of puffs of white smoke as the work of an occasional shell as it dug a great hole in the earth and scattered quantities of rock.

Still the Russians remained silent. There was no answering fire from them until the first Japanese line was within a few hundred yards of the river bank. Then sharp volleys burst almost simultaneously from several trenches, and the attacking Japanese found themselves under a heavy and continuous fire, at easy range, from covered positions high above them. They lay behind the sand hillocks, replying bravely and hotly to this fire, while their own batteries pumped shells over their heads.

The Japanese officers sat on their horses or walked along their lines. They were in no way sheltered or protected. A few stretcher-bearers coming back to the field hospital indicated that men were being wounded. The Russian smokeless powder was excellent. Its use made it impossible for the Japanese to discover the exact position of their enemy, or to estimate their numbers.

Two regiments of Japanese troops, one directly opposite Wuju, and another near a village on the west, ran to the river, stopping to fire now and then as they progressed, and giving shrill cheers as they hurried forward, over the river, to the Japanese position. Their formation was closer than that kept by British or American troops; and it looked as though their losses must be great. They waded the river, ran across the sands and climbed up the steep, rocky hillside like a swarm of ants, their red and yellow cap bands gleaming in the sun. One Japanese soldier, in one of the regiments, carried something white with him. This was seen, and it caused a shout to go up that the Russians had surrendered. But upon reaching the entrance of the first Russian trench, a hundred yards up the hillside, this man shook out a Japanese flag and waved it to and fro.

A storming party on the west side of the advance mounted a hill commanding the Russian retreat. Just as the men were hunched thickly on the crest of this hill, two Japanese shells burst among them. They had fallen short. When the smoke cleared away, a dozen bodies could be seen lying where the shells had exploded, and the remainder of the storming party were clambering down the hill to the beach, where they were met by their rear.

The sound of rifle firing soon passed on over the hills as the Japanese pursued the retreating enemy. One column of weary soldiers, who had been almost two days without rest, was pushing down the river toward Antung, where the Japanese gunboats were shelling the Russian works. At 9 o'clock, a solitary soldier, climbing ahead of his comrades, unfurled a huge Japanese flag on the face of the topmost Russian fort, on a ridge as the island of Kinteto, where the Japanese flag was hoisted. The Japanese flag was hoisted on the ridge, where the Japanese flag was hoisted.

Official estimates of the Japanese casualties are not given out, but the correspondent saw 300 Japanese and 100 Russian wounded in one field hospital.

ORDER FOR MOBILIZATION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]
KHARKOFF (Russia) Sunday, May 8.—The order for the mobilization of the reserves, which is to take place tomorrow, has caused a sensation here.

Having become convinced through months of poring over literature on the subject of attaining perfect health through abstaining from food and ignoring all things material, Mrs. Bessie Nussinsky of New York received a letter from her husband, who is now in the psychiatric ward of Bellevue, and the doctors fear she will die.

As an offset to the recently formed Married Men's Anti-Love Club, the Preservation Society of Bayonne, N. J., the wives of some of the organizers have announced plans for the formation of an anti-love club. They assert that numerous husbands who object to the easier ease are members of six or seven organizations and are much of their leisure time in the lodge rooms.

At Chicago the cry of "fire" by a man in the gallery Sunday started a rush to the door at Hopkins Theater, which nearly emptied the house and interrupted the performance. Several women fainted in the crush, but the third act was not finished, and the third act was not finished.

MORGAN'S TREASURY WARRANT FOR CANAL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.]

NEW YORK, May 9.—The Treasury warrant for $40,000,000 on account of the Panama Canal purchase was delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. by Secretary Shaw, at the Sub-Treasury, this afternoon. Secretary Shaw made the following statement as to the transfer: "J. P. Morgan & Co. were this morning officially appointed distributing agents, and their security fixed at $25,000,000. As soon as this security was approved, the warrant for $40,000,000 was delivered. This will be presented during the day, and paid as follows: $15,000,000 in cash and Sub-Treasury orders aggregating $25,000,000 will be drawn in favor of Morgan & Co. These, in turn, are to be deposited by Morgan & Co. with their various banks, to Morgan & Co.'s credit, and will be collected through the clearinghouse tomorrow. Meanwhile, the banks have brought to the Sub-Treasury their respective checks, aggregating a little over $27,000,000.

"The warrant was delivered to Mr. Steele personally. It was on a piece of white paper engraved in green ink, and was made payable to J. P. Morgan & Co. as special disbursing agents. Half a score of clerks at the Sub-Treasury were busy for some three hours, counting the bonds deposited by Morgan & Co. as security for the warrant. These checks were accepted for collection and will be collected through the clearinghouse tomorrow. In this way the banks of New York City will pay into the Sub-Treasury $27,000,000 and will receive from Morgan & Co. on deposit, $25,000,000.

"Both the payment to the Sub-Treasury and the deposits will be effected through the clearinghouse at the same time. Thus the banks will lose in the transaction only $2,000,000.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

At Belgrade John B. Jackson, United States Minister to Serbia, delivered his credentials to King Peter yesterday. While fording the Chikiska River, one mile north of Milan, Kan., a wagon containing W. Hanlon, wife and five children, was overturned. The woman and three children were drowned. Hanlon rescued two children. Quarrelling over a 20-cent jack pot in a "penny ante" poker game, Harry Simmons, a circus acrobat, shot L. R. Wickman, of Milan, Kan., through the heart, killing him instantly. Simmons escaped, but later surrendered.

The twenty-sixth anniversary of the American Seaside Yacht Society was observed Sunday at the Collegiate Church, New York City. Rev. Dr. Donald McKay presided, his subject, "What America Owe to the Sea." A Loblle, Ala., paper has received a telegram from a member of the United States Coast Guard, forty miles north of Mobile, stating that the colonists are in want, and that conditions are pitiable. An appeal is made for aid.

At Marshalltown, Iowa, Rev. O. R. Newell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, fell, stricken with paralysis, in his pulpit. Paralysis was the result of a stroke, and the form was allowed to pitch headlong to the floor. He cannot live.

Agents in Santiago of a New York firm have notified the government, says a New York Herald dispatch from Valparaiso, Chile, that the cruiser Captain Pratt is of a fast type from the Pyrradon and the Belangio, just bought from Argentina, they are willing to exchange her for the cruiser Esmeralda, retaining the Chacabuco.

Sunday Baseball Crowds Not Conductive to Peace.

New York Public's Conscience Must be Aroused.

McCoy and O'Brien Fight Saturday—Summary.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, May 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Methodist church of New York today resolved to carry the question of professional baseball playing on Sunday to the highest court. A committee was appointed to formulate a plan of action, to report next Monday.

The ministers want. It understood that it is not their purpose to begin a crusade against health-giving sports on the Sabbath. They do hold, however, that Sunday professional games draw immense crowds and seriously interrupt the peace and quiet of the Sabbath. Chicago and its Sunday ball crowd is the chief comparative weapon with which New York ministers hope to arouse public conscience against the games here.

MCCOY AND O'BRIEN.
GOOD FIGHT SATURDAY NIGHT.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, May 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Saturday night next will see what will probably be the best fight decided in the East, in many months, that between "Kid McCoy," challenger of Fitzsimmons, who claims to have received his old-time form, and Jack O'Brien, the contender in Philadelphia. Saturday night.

McCoy has been training for a month at White Plains, and his accounts say he is in the best of shape. The "Kid" is sure he is O'Brien's master, too, and says he will do what "Jimmy" Ryan failed to do—knock out the Philadelphia slugger in the sixth round or over. O'Brien is always in shape. He never desponds, and he keeps his legs in good condition at all times, and although he has been doing some extra road and gymnasium work, he will be as fit as the proverbial fiddle when he faces the once great "Kid."

DREYFUSS WANTS PITCHER.
WILLING TO PAY $25,000.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
PITTSBURGH, May 9.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] President Dreyfus is making desperate efforts to strengthen his pitching staff. He has declared his willingness to give $25,000 for his choice of two pitchers in the National and American leagues. He is willing to give $12,500 for Matthews of New York alone, if he can get a three-year contract.

LEASER TRAINING FARM.
WHITNEY'S REPORTED DEAL.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NEW YORK, May 9.—It is reported that Harry Payne Whitney has leased for five years, with the option of purchase outright, the breeding and training farm near Red Bank, N. J., known as Brookdale, the home of the late D. D. Whitney, and, after his death, the property of Col. P. Thompson, whose estate still owns it. It includes more than 800 acres of ground, together with stabling for eighty horses and a cowshed and track for training horses, and is situated on a hill overlooking the city. It is said to be the plan of Whitney to bring to Brookdale part of his stud, besides some prize winners, the choicest blood stock now in Kentucky.

ONE LADYFISH TAKEN IN BAY.

PAIR OF MISGUIDED CORBINA MEET FATE INSIDE.

Croakers Making Matrimonial Raid on Fishermen's Claim. Are Themselves Raided by Seals and Chased Far Away—Doings of the Day at Other Beach Resorts.

The first ladyfish of the season was caught Sunday by "Buck" and his son, Harry Lynch, on the beach at Santa Monica. The fish was a small, silvery, eel-like creature, about 10 inches long, with a pointed snout and large eyes. It was found in a shallow pool of water on the beach.

It was a very unusual catch, and the fish was taken to the local market. The fish was found in a shallow pool of water on the beach. It was a small, silvery, eel-like creature, about 10 inches long, with a pointed snout and large eyes.

Hundred and Sixty Thousand City's Population.

Remarkable Showing of the School Census.

Marshal and His Deputies Find Odd Facts.

Los Angeles as a city has passed the 160,000 mark at a bound and landed well beyond. One year of increase and growth above a remarkable gain, according to reliable figures.

Enumerating the school children in the several wards, and making a careful estimate of the population of the city, has been the task, since April 15, of Census Marshal Bert Farmer. Yesterday he completed the work.

The report is extremely gratifying, and the most enthusiastic hopes and most sanguine estimates have been fully realized.

The school-census marshal reports a total of 42,114 children under seventeen years of age, and based upon these figures, an estimated total population of 160,000.

Mr. Farmer says his work has been very thorough and complete. While some of the wards, principally the Third, have fallen somewhat behind in the census work, the total is easily accounted for by the fact that business houses, hotels and rooming-houses are taking the place of the residences on Hill street and South Broadway.

The signature clause in the blanks caused extra labor. Five hundred dollars additional was spent by the city for this question alone.

Residents of the Third Ward can console themselves with the fact that while that section has fallen to return its quota of school pupils, it has fully redeemed itself in regard to population, and shows a greater increase than any other ward in the city.

The Third Ward total is 12,364. This year the grand total in population is 20,716, an increase over last year of 12.3.

SIXTH THE LEADER.
The sixth comes up smiling with the largest gain in school children. It has doubled the increase of any other ward in the city. It has 17,800 school children, more than last year's total.

Throughout the city an increase over last year of 4,000 school children is shown.

There is no department of city business which requires the same amount of work in the same period of time as that of the census marshal and his deputies.

Some of the deputies were required to speak Spanish, Italian, French and German, and one man threw up his job when he struck a Russian family who could not speak a word of English.

Comparatively few persons were found who could not sign their names, and many times when the census taker was unable to write, the intelligent school children of the family signed instead.

One of the deputies in the First Ward was greatly hampered in his work by a man who preceded him, representing himself to be a bona fide deputy, and who asked a four-cent fee for a book he wished to sell, and whose housewives refused to sign the blank because their husbands were not at home.

One man, with a head of eight, lively youngsters all under 17, was obliged to call a neighbor for the washtub for information regarding the age of some middle-aged members of the family.

PECULIAR FACTS.
Among the peculiarities noted were: That the Eighth Ward has exactly 1000 boys between the ages of 5 and 17 years.

That there are more boys than girls in the Second, Sixth and Eighth wards.

That the girls have the advantage of numbers in the First, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Seventh and Ninth wards.

That there are 17,801 white boys between the ages of 5 and 17; 17,500 white girls, 275 colored boys and 275 colored girls.

Fourteen hundred and fifteen children were not vaccinated; 5,672 attend public schools; 22,512 attend private schools; 4,017 do not attend any school.

There are 3,325 white children under 5 years of age; 2,112 Indian children; 1,000 Chinese; 1,000 foreign born, making a total for the entire city of 42,114 children under 17 years of age.

DOBSON SCHOOL.

The New Building is Thrown Open Under Most Auspicious Circumstances.

Last evening the new Dobson School building was thrown open to the public. Society thronged the spacious hall and low-ceiled apartments, and the room in which the dramatic program was given was filled with eager parents and admiring friends.

"The Marriage of the Flowers" was a particularly beautiful and original line of work. Miss Henrietta Dobson read with grace and fine expression "The Marriage of the Flowers," and about thirty fairy, fairy little children took part, acting the whole out in pantomime.

In the "Violet Drill" nineteen young ladies of the school appeared dressed in a stately Greek costume of white crepe, with garlands of violets, and carrying banners of violet silk and with great bunches of violets in their arms.

"For Sweet Charity," a farce by the Dobson Dramatic Club, was admirably presented and brought down the house with its ludicrous situations. After the programme a general reception was held and dancing was enjoyed in the dance hall, which had been artistically decorated in green and white. The main hall, the library and other apartments were all made beautiful with floral adornment.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Dobson were Mrs. Emma Greenleaf, Miss Virginia T. Conine, Mrs. Gertrude Kellar Bagley and the faculty and members of the Conversation and Book Review Club.

ruinously low price. We do it so as to quickly find new owners for several slightly used instruments recently taken as part payment for Steinway and other high-grade pianos for which we are agents. There are several splendid upright pianos that have seen some service—but are none the worse for it—and a few Chase & Baker, Angell and Pianos Piano Players. The Piano Players are of the 1902 model, and are as good as new. Two of the famous Cecilians which have been out on rental a few months will also be included in this combination offering. Never in our experience have we known two such excellent instruments to sell for $290.

BISHOP ANDREWS IS SLATED TO RETIRE.

Developments of Meeting of Episcopacy Committee Yesterday—Sessions of Conference Full of Important Business.

A MOST important meeting of the Episcopacy Committee was held yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist Church. The sub-committee on the effectiveness of the present Board of Bishops was ready to report, but this was held back until a report should be ready from another important sub-committee, that on "An Episcopal Age Limit."

According to "the Merrill plan." Undoubtedly such amendment would carry and the colored man be allowed the honor he has so long waited for. Before the week is closed these two questions of retirement and a colored bishop will be definitely settled. MISSIONARY EPISCOPACY. Closely connected with the question of election of additional bishops, is that of the missionary episcopacy. Bishop Thoburn is lying ill, and is term in the ministry and bishoprics that covers the years of active service. When this ceases superannuation occurs. If the sub-committee on Age Limit reports the fixing of seventy-two as is generally supposed, it would be heartily indorsed by the conference. The only obstacle in the way is Bishop Warren of Denver, who at seventy-three is so well preserved and so effective that many hesitate to apply the rule at this time. Such a plan, the delegates believe, would, however, relieve forever the General Conference from the embarrassment of deciding just when a bishop may be truly said to be non-effective. There is a strong demand for a general rule covering all cases, rather than personal consent on the part of the bishops to voluntarily retire after the manner of Bishop Merrill or an investigation to decide upon effectiveness. If this is decided upon Wednesday then the sub-committee on Effectiveness will not report at all, for the rule will at once be applied to all without respect of persons. Several eastern delegations are working for an age limit, but with the understanding that it shall not be applied till 1908, and urge that at present effectiveness be made the basis of judgment. A well-authenticated rumor from sources close to the New York Book Concern contingent was widespread yesterday afternoon that the beloved and revered Bishop E. G. Andrews, realizing the general desire of the delegates for younger leaders in the Episcopacy, had decided voluntarily to retire. This is the key to the situation. If this man at seventy-nine steps aside, then Bishops Mallieu, Walden, and Vincent are said to be ready to follow. If Bishop Andrews should finally decide not to volunteer his resignation, the overwhelming sentiment among the 216 members of the Committee on Episcopacy at yesterday's session was that he would be most respectfully requested to retire, and others as well. The aged appearance of these honored men on the platform has been a strong argument, growing stronger daily, that young blood must be introduced. The further fact that only four bishops have been chosen in sixteen years, on the average of one for every fifty-five at election, is being advanced as a strong argument why the General Conference should go back to the old plan of electing from four to eight at one time at ages ranging from forty to fifty years. It is now settled that at least six bishops will be elected for work in the United States. Further, if a colored bishop cannot be elected for work in the colored conferences because of a restrictive rule in the constitution bearing on the general superintendency then the General Conference will submit to a vote of the church an amendment making such action legal, so or at most, missionaries of an expensive sort, inasmuch as their salaries are charged to the treasury of the Missionary Society.

Now that General Conference has the power to fix the residences of the general superintendents, it is believed full bishops can be assigned residences in Southern Asia and Eastern Asia, in Africa, as well as in any part of the foreign missionary field, and that they would more satisfactorily serve the church in those regions.

Neither China nor Japan wants missionary bishops. They ask for resident general superintendents. India and the Philippines ask for missionary bishops. We understand, however, that the delegates from these fields are not a unit on the subject, a minority being decidedly opposed to missionary episcopacy. Dr. Stuntz of Manila and Dr. Robinson and Dr. Buck of India are, it seems, on the ground as candidates for the office. Whether they will be elected will depend largely on the Committee on Episcopacy.

Dr. Oldham's name is also to the fore as one eminently fitted for the office of a missionary bishop.

MISSIONARY CROWDS.

HIGH SCHOOL THIS MORNING. The remarkable attendance of 700 people at the great Missionary Exhibit in the old Chamber of Commerce continues, the counter at the door recording yesterday over 7000 admissions and bringing the grand total up to about $2,000 for the five days. This is the greatest record ever made by such enterprises in connection with a General Conference, and the bishops are delighted with the result. Every day at 2:30 one of their number mounts the platform projecting from the balcony and delivers an address to an attentive throng. Bishops Andrews, Walden and Foss went through the corridors for the first time yesterday, examining the booths in detail, and they expressed the greatest pleasure.

Yesterday afternoon was "Home Mission Day," and the ladies of the society were the hostesses. Lectures were delivered at the several booths by entertaining missionaries and last night the story was continued by prominent missionary women, who spoke from the balcony, the principal talk being by Mrs. Clinton B. Fisk, national president of the Home Society. In the forenoon the Commercial High School of 400 pupils, under the leadership of Principal Frank, visited the exhibit and were entertained by Bishop Warren of South Asia, and missionaries Denyes and Stewart. Miss Anna Stone, the Chinese girl, also sang for the visitors.

This morning from 9 to 11 o'clock the exhibit hall will be closed to everybody except the 1400 pupils of the High School, who will attend in two sections, and an entertaining program will be provided for them. At 2:30 this afternoon Bishop Cranston will be the principal speaker, and missionaries will deliver addresses from the booths.

The fine exhibit of things from Malaya is proving one of the greatest attractions in the hall. The articles there shown are in themselves interesting, but no small part of the popularity of the booth is due to the fact that an instructive talk is always eager to tell his story.

Minnesota Would Break the "Stop Bow" of Methodism—Committee Enjoyed Laugh at the Californians Who Want to Rest One Year in Ten.

When the Committee on Itinerary met yesterday afternoon the first business after the roll call was the appointment of the sub-committees by Dr. S. F. Upham, the chairman, and also the special committee of fifteen to consider all memorials on the time limit, and make a recommendation to the committee of the whole. The latter committee is made up of eight ministers and seven laymen, as follows:

None Treat As I Treat

There is no physician anywhere who can cure the general method of treating diseases that I can. It is in itself no more than a common sense of my services. With my superior added it is a different possible blood. Results obtained prove that I can cure all kinds of ailments that others cannot cure and never can. I can cure only do not treat a disease cure as I cure.

(NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.)

MARKHAM IS A MANAGER.

RECEIVED APPOINTMENT ON SOLDIERS' HOME BOARD.

Los Angeles, May 9.—The Times, of South Raymond avenue, May 9, received official notification of his appointment to the Board of Managers of the National Soldiers' Home. The appointment comes by joint resolution of the Senate and House. There are other members of the board, residing in different States of the Union. "A great many people," said Mr. Markham, yesterday, "do not understand this appointment. The impression has been created that I will take charge of the Santa Monica Soldiers' Home, replacing it as manager. This is far from being the case. I will continue to make my home and will have nothing to do with the routine and detailed management of the local home. My management is very able, looked upon and there will be no change. I am a general manager, and I will be in general way, the nine soldiers' home of the country. They hold a general meeting. Each home is to be managed by a particular charge, and one member who lives in that home. But he is not manager. He represents it on the Board of Managers. We hold four meetings a month, and certain papers, and I can not attend all these meetings, perhaps not more than two."

TEMPERANCE WINE.

Los Angeles, May 9.—A woman's shriek this morning brought the populace of Avalon to the beach on the qui vive for a sensation. Two ladies had arranged for a ride in a skiff. A boatman took the little craft alongside the end of the pleasure wharf, where they were to embark. The younger lady stepped into the boat and was seated herself, at the oars, when the older one, who was no featherweight, by any means, instead of stepping toward the center of the little round-bottom skiff, stepped on its edge, when presto, her 150 pounds of avoirdupois was foundering in the water. The skiff turned upside down, and its occupant was also precipitated into the sea. Both ladies gripped the wharf as they went down and were soon rescued from their predicament.

NEWS DRIFTWOOD.

Harry Mahew, once a resident of Avalon, came down from San Francisco with the Master Plumbers' excursion, and is renewing his acquaintance with his old friends.

Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bowdler were out with Capt. Adams this morning, after trolling all the morning about Seal and Sphinx Rocks, caught nothing until within a hundred feet of the wharf on their return.

FULLERTON.

ORTEGA IS DISCHARGED.

FULLERTON, May 9.—The preliminary examination of Paul Ortega, charged with having voted illegally at the recent city election, was held here today. Dist. Atty. Head appearing for the people and Roger Williams of Santa Ana for defendant. After a large number of witnesses had been examined on both sides, Justice Ford dismissed the case, believing that the evidence was insufficient to hold him for trial. Ortega testified that he had voted in Fullerton since he became of age and proved this was his home when he voted at the city election.

IGNORANCE

Blows out the gas and furnishes the newspapers with a jest and an obituary notice. "Didn't know it was loaded" may be an honest plea, but it never brought a victim back to life. Those who let a cough run on, in ignorance of the danger, find no escape from the consequences when the cough develops into lung trouble.

The best time to cure a cough is when it starts. Ordinarily, a few doses of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure a cough at the beginning. But even when the cough is deep-seated, the lungs bleed and the body is wasted by association, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred effect a perfect and permanent cure.

$3,000 FORFEIT will be paid by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y., if the candidate shows the original signature of the individual volunteering the testimonial below, and also of the writers of every testimonial among the thousands which they are constantly publishing, thus proving their genuineness.

"My husband had been coughing for years and people frankly told me that he would go. I had tried all the doctors and all the medicines, but nothing would cure him. I had heard of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and I bought it. I gave him two bottles and he was cured. I am so glad that I have been able to save him. I am so glad that I have been able to save him. I am so glad that I have been able to save him."

MARY SANDERS SAFE.

Little Girl Who Was Kidnaped by Her Aunt Has Arrived at Indianapolis.

Mary Katherine Sanders, who was abducted from the residence of her father, J. M. Sanders, about two weeks ago, by Miss Henrietta Meeker, the child's aunt, has been located in Indianapolis. Mr. Sanders received a telegram Sunday night from William Meeker, brother of Miss Meeker, stating that the pair had arrived there that morning.

The father yesterday notified Chief Marshall and the detectives of the location of the missing child, and sought the advice of the District Attorney as to the best means of regaining possession of his daughter.

A warrant had been issued for Miss Meeker's arrest, but Mr. Sanders has concluded that he will not proceed with his sister-in-law as he is convinced that she is not responsible for her actions. He is overjoyed to learn that his little daughter is safe with relatives in Indianapolis. William Meeker, the brother, is disposed to do right about the matter, and the father thinks that he will have no trouble in securing the child if he decides to go on to Indianapolis. He will either journey to the Indiana capital or have someone bring the child back to Los Angeles.

Refrigerators That Save.

It is far more economical to buy refrigerators that appear to be cheap, and at cost, as manufacturers' prices, bargain sales, etc. The ice companies naturally prefer their customers to use vending refrigerators, because the cost of ice is so high. Our refrigerators are air-tight, and have no many non-conducting walls and so many appliances for the circulation of the air inside without admitting the outside air that they are economical. They save their cost in ice. We sell them at the smallest margin of profit possible, but they are good refrigerators and can be depended upon to preserve ice as well as food. We have every grade and size. Three special values are:

Priced at $9.00, $13.50 and $25.00.
